

EMILIOS AVGOULEAS

Professor Emilius Avgouleas holds the (statutory) International Banking Law and Finance Chair at the University of Edinburgh and is the founding director of the Edinburgh LLM in International Banking Law and Finance. Emilius is a senior research fellow at Edinburgh University's blockchain lab and currently serves as a regular visiting Professor at the School of European Political Economy, Luiss Guido Carli. He was previously a member of the Stakeholder Group of the European Banking Authority (EBA) (2015-2020) elected in the so-called 'top-ranking' academics section. Emilius served in the Eurogroup Select Panel for the Hellenic Financial Stability Fund (HFSF) for 2 periods (2016-2020) and was a distinguished vis. Research Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Hong Kong (HKU) between 2017 and 2020.

Emilius was educated at the University of Athens and the London School of Economics (LSE) where he studied Banking Law and Finance (LLM, PhD) and he has practised in the broader field of International and European financial law and structured finance. He worked as an Associate at the Derivatives and Financial Institutions Group of Clifford Chance LLP and as a Managing Associate at the Financial Markets Group of Linklaters. He has served, at different times, as a distinguished visiting professor, visiting professor, visiting professorial fellow and senior research scholar at Yale Law School, Harvard Law School, Tsinghua University, National University of Singapore, Hong Kong University, and Duke Law School.

Emilius is a leading international expert on financial reform, fintech policy and regulation, banking theory and regulation, capital markets regulation, law and finance, and global economic governance. He has published extensively in the wider field of bank regulation and financial stability, International political economy, fintech, behavioral finance and capital markets. He is the author of a large number of peer-review journal articles and of acclaimed research monographs. Indicatively: Governance of Global Financial Markets: The Law, the Economics, the Politics (Cambridge University Press, 2012) and The Mechanics and Regulation of Market Abuse: A Legal and Economic Analysis (Oxford University Press, 2005); he co-authored the Principles of Banking Law (Oxford University Press, 3rd ed., 2018). He has co-edited a number of books: Reconceptualizing Global Finance and its Regulation (Cambridge University Press, 2016), Capital Markets Union in Europe (Oxford University Press, 2018), The Political Economy of Financial Regulation (Cambridge University Press, 2019) and was the Guest (co-)Editor of the Special Issue of the EBOLR (2019(20)) on Law, Finance and Technology.

Before joining Edinburgh in 2012 Emilios was a University Professor of International Financial Markets and Financial Law at the University of Manchester. An impactful scholar, Emilios' work is frequently cited and commented upon in major Parliamentary and public policy reports and the global media. Emilios is an observing (until confirmation) member of the Mocomila, a member of the sovereign debt group of the Financial Markets Law Committee and a member of the Royal Economic Society (RES).