

Boštjan Krisper

Boštjan Krisper is an expert in retail financial services at the Slovene Consumers Association ZPS. Founded in 1990, ZPS is the largest consumer association in Slovenia, providing information and legal advice to consumers, as well as engaging in policy work with the objective of improving the regime of consumer protection on both national and EU level. ZPS also publishes the only independent consumer magazine in Slovenia.

Boštjan is currently also member of the Financial Services Consumer Group that advises the European Commission during the preparation of legislation and policy initiatives while providing insight concerning practical implementation and matters affecting consumers. He has until recently been member of the Banking Stakeholder Group at the European Banking Authority.

Boštjan has an MA in International Economics from the University of Tübingen.
