

Kerstin Hermansson

Kerstin is currently a member of the board of Swedbank. She was the managing director of Swedish Securities Dealers' Association (SSDA) between 2006 and March 2019. Her first major task as managing director of SSDA was the MIFID 1 implementation; from dialogue with legislators and regulators to review of all SSDA self-regulation and standard documents. Under Kerstin's leadership SSDA continued to service and support its members in regulatory developments and infrastructure projects, with high focus on the regulatory changes in the EU following the financial crises. The SSDA has become more and more active on following the EU agenda, especially through an increased co-operation with the other Nordic associations and the establishment of the Nordic Securities Association. Kerstin has also been active within the European Banking Federation and the European Forum for Securities Association.

Kerstin has a Master of Laws from the University of Lund. She started as a young lawyer in an investment firm in 1985. She joined Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken in 1991, first as a lawyer serving mainly the custody area and then as Head of Compliance in the investment bank arm. Kerstin has been an expert in several government investigations related to securities law and regulation.
