

Annex H

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH BASED COMPANY BUILDING BLOCK

The company

Details (where there are no relevant details this must be stated) of the company's operations in laboratory research and development including details of patents granted or details of the progress of patent applications and in relation to its products the successful completion of, or the successful progression of significant testing of the effectiveness of the products.

Details of relevant expertise and experience of the key technical staff.

Confirmation that the company has engaged in collaborative research and development agreements with organisations of high standing and repute within the industry or that it can establish that the absence of such agreements does not reduce the standing or quality of its research efforts.

Products

A full description each product the development of which may have a material effect on the future prospects of the company.